Resident Bloom Pendant

The Resident Bloom pendant, designed by Tim Rundal, comes in both large and small sizes. These pendants feature an elliptical glass diffuser that resembles classic paper lanterns. The frosted glass diffuser encases a mesh core that projects a texture onto the inside of the pendant.

The Resident Bloom pendant is a stunning addition to your decor, emitting a downward light when it is switched on. These pendants can be utilised in a kitchen or dining area, either individually or in clusters, to create a striking focal point above a table. The Bloom collection consists of two difference size pendants, floor and table lamps.
