Arturo Alvarez Parga LED Pendant

Arturo Alvarez Parga LED Pendant was designed by Arturo Alvarez. The two opposing elements which Parga unites, stone and light, search for an almost fictional image. The mineral possesses energy which desires to be released and radiated out in a direct, intense beam of light. The three different-sized Parga Pendants are functional yet decorative for indoor spaces which benefit from their natural colour palette and texture.

The Parga Pendants are available in three different sizes which increase in height and decrease in diameter. All pendants are made from natural granite stone which was mined from Galician quarries, making for a more sustainable use. Each pendant has a formal language reminiscent of the most primitive stone carvings. The body of the pendants is light grey with unison with speckles of black and fine grain.
