PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: Barba Corsini

Pedrera H2O Table Lamp by Gubi

The H2O table lamp (and its corresponding pendant), takes its design from Barba Corsini's PD2 floor lamp, which was made in 1955 for his renovation of the attic rooms in Antoni Gaudí's famous La Pedrera. The original design was rediscovered by Joaquim Ruiz Millet in 1991 and together with Corsini, they have now produced a whole Pedrera collection, distributed by Gubi.

The characteristic holed design of the lamp, takes its inspiration from the chimneys and rooftop of La Pedrera and its steel framework means this light adds a modern touch. Unlike the 1955 design, the H2O light uses smaller holes, resulting in a reinvented form that is contemporary and timeless. With three finishes available, this versatile lamp can be used in many settings and will be a wonderful addition to any room.
