Respiro LED Wall Light by DCW éditions

The Respiro wall light was designed by Philippe Nigro, a French designer who studied both industrial design and applied arts. Using his skills, Nigro has developed a wall light that has an intriguing look and maximum function, suitable for many settings. The name Respiro also comes from the Italian word for breathe, which is emulated by the beautiful wave patterns that sit on the top and the bottom of the wall lamp.

The Respiro wall lamp is available in a gold finish and in 2 sizes, the smaller Respiro and the bigger Respiro L. The integrated light source shines through the waves to produce an upward and downward glow that spreads out on the wall. Suitable for homes and professional interiors, this wall fixture can be used in lounges, hallways, staircases and much more to add a touch of elegance and design excellency.
