Shibui Wall Light by Le Klint

Designed by Søren Refsgaard, the Shibui wall light is rich in both Scandinavian tradition and Japanese culture with a simple design that is named after the Japanese aesthetic term for subjects that are subtle and exude unobtrusive beauty. True to Le Klint's style, the lampshade is made from white plastic foil, folded in a way to create a geometric shape that has sharp and clean lines.

The Shibui wall lamp has a contemporary black metal structure which holds the shade in mid air, producing the effect of a lantern. The wall light creates an effective and warm glow, being both functional and stylish. Useful in lounges, offices, bedrooms, dining rooms and more, this wall lamp will add a intriguing touch to any interior.
