HAY Slant Table Lamp

The HAY Slant Table Lamp was designed by a Japanese design team called BRANCH who combine their collective knowledge of art, science and design to explore the relationship between people and their environment. The BRANCH team together created this statement piece that uses a cast iron counterweight that perfectly balances the aluminium slanted shade. This simplistic design cleverly conceals the light source, therefore, retaining the desk lamp's clean and elemental silhouette. The lamp's acrylic diffuser not only hides the bulb but also softly distributes the light.

Due to the aluminium finish and satin wet spray, this statement table lamp has a smooth soft finish whilst also emphasising the bold design.
