Tyla Floor Lamp by KDLN

The Tyla floor lamp was designed by Marc Sadler and is inspired by the long stems of the bulrush, a wetland plant that is tall and reed like. The lampshade is supported by three slender stems that elegantly position the shade in mid air. The shade is made from glass with opaque glass used on the inside and clear glass used on the outside. This creates a shimmering effect and this paired with the irregular shape creates a sense of movement, ethereal and delicate in any setting.

The Tyla floor light can be used around the home and in commercial spaces and emits a welcoming and warm glow perfect for creating a cosy ambience. The floor lamp comes in three colours finishes, white, red or dark blue and will add a modern and unique aesthetic in your interior.
