Rubn Miller Wall Light

The Miller Wall Light was designed by Niclas Hoflin who was also the founder of the Rubn lighting brand. 'Rubns mission is to give the customer the joy of experiencing harmony between material, design and functionality' and this is clear in the design and creation of the Miller collection. The collection features a table lamp, a floor lamp, and this simplistic yet functional wall light.

The design of this Rubn wall light is described as having a 'modern posture' with its graphic shaping and materials. The light comes in a variety of finishes that demonstrate the muted Scandinavian colour palette. The calming combination of coloured shades and metallic wall mounts creates a juxtaposition between the industrial functionality and the delicate design. This wall light can either be hardwired or fitted with a cable and plug. This option allows you to place the wall light wherever you like. Perfect for a bedside or workspace, the Miller Wall Light creates a soft beam of light that can easily fill a space.
