Parachilna Gweilo HAN PE LED Floor Lamp

The Gweilo HAN PE floor lamp was designed by a design group based in Toronto called Partisans. They aim for their work to result in 'a high-performance design that strives to make the improbable possible'. This is clear within the design of the Gweilo collection which uses hand-molded acrylic and integrated LED strips to create a fascinating floor lamp with a lot of character.

Gweilo, being the Chinese word for ghost, this floor lamp appears to float with the wind and glide through the space. This is due to the highly skilled craftsmanship that goes into carefully heating and molding the golden anodised acrylic material. The translucent quality of the material allows this Parachilna floor lamp to merge with its surroundings and appear as an artistic addition to your home. Whilst embodying a ghostly design, this Gweilo HAN PE floor lamp is also highly technical. The Golden metallic strip that sits upright and supports the acrylic shape also houses the LED that lights up this mysterious material. The cable also includes a dimmer that allows you to control the light intensity of your Parachilna LED floor lamp. You can create the perfect ambiance and atmosphere within your space as you adjust the light to an ideal level. This Gweilo would be a stunning addition to any living, dining, or social area as it would become a talking point of your home.
