PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: Héctor SerranoWoods Pendant Light by Arturo Alvarez

Designed by London-based studio Héctor Serrano, the Woods pendant brings all the wonder and beauty of light in the forest, emulating the magical look of light peering through the trees. The lampshade is made from slats of birch which are suspended vertically to produce a stunning show of shadow and light. The light source sits in an inner diffuser made of glass which is surrounded by these pieces of woods to create a gorgeous aesthetic.

The Woods pendant lamp can be used in many settings and will provide a warm, pleasing glow whilst also drawing the eye. A magnificent fixture, this pendant light can be the focus of any room or used for accent lighting and will coax people in to its alluring yet calm look.

Please note that the cables are non-adjustable
