Hashira High Floor Lamp by Audo Copenhagen

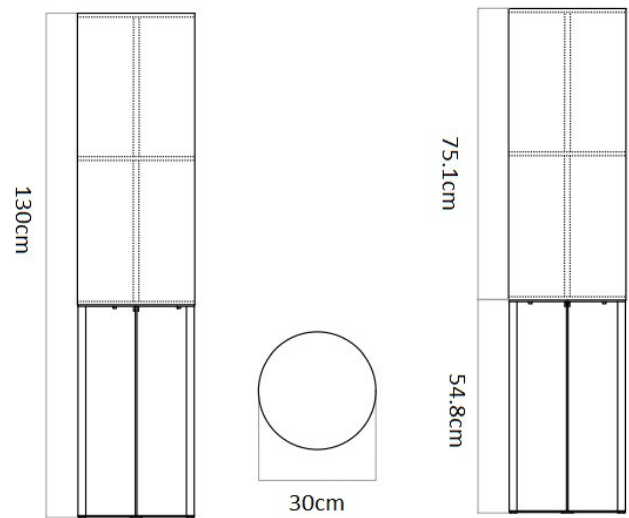

The Hashira High floor lamp is a fusion of Japanese and Scandinavian design that uses the traditional rice paper lanterns of Japan and the minimal functionalism of Scandinavian design to create this Hashira floor lamp. The raw linen shade creates a perfectly diffused light that will provide an ambient atmosphere in any room. With an ideal balance of simplicity and character, the fabric shade is mounted on a graphic powder-coated steel frame that adds a minimalist yet sturdy balance to the design. The combination of the tall tactile shade and the slender graphic frame demonstrates the fusion of Japanese paper shades and Scandinavian simplicity.

With a dimmer switch on the cable, the Hashira can be dimmed with ease which would allow you to adjust the level of lumen output in order to provide a calming and cosy atmosphere. When switched on, the light from within the shade will reveal the unique patterning of the linen, a feature that characterises the beauty of the design. Place this Audo Copenhagen floor lamp in your living space, dining room, or bedroom to give a moment of calm to your everyday life.
