Design For The People Strap Table Lamp

Designed by Bjørn + Balle for Design For The People and the winner of the Red Dot Design Award in 2017, the Strap Table Lamp features a conical lampshade which is supported by a leather strap. This combination of materials and aesthetics produces a modern look and a design which is intrinsically inspired by the Nordic style.

The simple and clean look of the Strap table light makes it perfect for many settings, offering a soft and diffused illumination that can be used for a warm pocket of light in the room. The table lamp is available in either a white or black colour finish and comes with two leather straps in the purchase so you can decide between a brown or black strap to finish the look off in your interior.
