KDLN Flow Ceiling Light

The Flow is also available as a ceiling light, which can also be installed with the Leaf and create stunning compositions. Chris Basias designed the Flow collection for KDLN; his designs can be described as eccentric and romantic. He takes inspiration from his childhood memories, growing up in the Greek countryside. The Flow ceiling light is like a leaf blown by the wind. When installed with other Flow lights it creates a feeling of movement, and a play of light and shadows just adds to that effect. The Flow emits a warm, downwards and diffused light adding warmth and a feel of cosiness to the room.

Flow can be dimmable, via mains phase when used with a dimmable light bulb. The metal leaf is combined with a glass sphere which just enhances the light's organic feel. A beautiful ceiling light, perfect for residential and commercial spaces. The ceiling light can also be combined with the Flow suspension and decorative Flow Leaf and create a unique installation in any interior space.
