Warm Nordic Trombone Cylinder Pendant

The Trombone Cylinder Pendant is part of the Warm Nordic Trombone Collection, designed by Jo Hammerborg. Hammerborg started his career as an apprentice silversmith, an experience that influenced his work ever since. He only worked with high-quality materials and kept details such as joints and switches to a minimum in order to showcase the material's natural beauty. This can be seen in the simplistic, clean lines of the Cylinder Pendant.

The Trombone Cylinder Pendant emits a downward directed glow, perfect for task lighting above a desk, or kitchen island. It can be installed in multiples to line the length of a desk or hallway, or can be displayed with the other lamps from The Trombone Collection to create a consistent lighting scheme. The elegant, geometric design of this collection is timeless and fits seamlessly into any contemporary space. Originally designed in 1966, the Trombone series proved so popular that, decades later, it is still possible to buy a newly produced Jo Hammerborg lamp.
