Audo Copenhagen Collector Wall Light

A mid-century design, as envisioned by Alf Svensson, the Collector Wall is now available by Audo Copenhagen. Both functional and decorative, the Collector features brass and creme details. There are two shades, emitting a downward and upwards light while the small perforations on the shade push light outwards creating a game of light and shadows. Its name is a reference to the collectability of these lights, which describes mid-century lighting design at its finest.

The Collector series also includes the stunning Collector Chandelier, available with 3 or 5 shades. Explore the collection here.

The Collector Wall Light can either be installed directly onto the wall, keeping the cable and plug, or installed into the mains electricity by removing the cable and plug.
