Design For The People Tullio Pendant

Designed by Anker Studio, a Danish duo specialising in playful approaches to industrial style, the Tullio Pendant boasts a striking sculptural form. It is a perfect combination of both Scandinavian and industrial design, whilst remaining minimalistic and making it easy to integrate this luminaire into a range of décor styles.

The curved design is made up of three light sources all arranged at different heights, these light sources offer an even dispersion of soft glare free light - optimised by the reflection capabilities of the inside of the shades. This light is emitted downward which makes it perfect for use in your living room, kitchen and especially above your dining table.
