Normann Copenhagen Vekst Pendant

Normann Copenhagen Vekst Pendant was designed by Royal Danish Academy of Fine Arts graduate, Simon Legald. Vekst pendants have arms which hang downwards like branches of a willow tree. Each branch has an etched opal glass light source attached at the end whilst the arm itself is made from powder-coated steel. Legald has taken inspiration from natural symmetry within nature.

Normann Copenhagen Vekst Pendant is a great addition to any room above a dining/coffee table. The pendants look best hung alone or in pairs to create a statement against a plain background. The Vekst collection includes two different-sized pendants and a wall light.
