Axolight Bul-Bo LED Wall Light

Axolight Bul-Bo LED Wall Light was designed by Fabrizio Pellegrino and Lodovico Gabetti in 2019 and re-edition in 2021. The design duo created a lab to reconstruct Studio Gabetti and Isola's ideas linked to the original design concept of the Bul-Bo lamp. Among the foundations of this path, are the direct stories of the architects Aimaro Isola and Guido Drocco (co-authors of Bul-Bo in 1971), the notes and original drawings of the studio, the memories of Gabetti and Pellegrino. From this path, Axolight was led to re-edition the first Bul-Bo and bring with it a second generation of ideas, deeply linked, in all respects, to the original idea of Bul-Bo.

Bul-Bo LED Wall Light has been cleverly formed to be displayed in both a residential and a commercial setting. The stem of the structure is made from aluminium and secured to a box which is mounted to the wall. The contemporary design of this wall lamp is a testament to the incredible craftsmanship of all designs. Bul-Bo Collection also includes a floor lamp and a table lamp.
