Artemide Tizio Table Lamp

An iconic design by Richard Sapper, the Artemide Tizio Table Lamp is part of an award-winning collection. The Tizio was one of the first table lamps to incorporate a halogen lamp and due to its unique design, no cables are required - the low-voltage current is simply carried along the conducting arms of the Tizio itself. The Artemide Tizio Table Lamp is a popular lighting solution for workshops and other areas that require task lighting, harnessing a counterweight structure that allows the silhouette to be set in a range of positions - therefore personalising the angle and intensity of the lighting output.

To celebrate 50 years of the Tizio, Artemide have released a limited edition design in red; a homage to Richard Sapper. The special issue is numbered, and the Red Tizio will be in plastic-free packaging with a leaflet on the Tizio's 50-year history.
