A new family of suspension lights all concentrated on the diffuser and defined by the volume and material nature of glass. A collection of diffuser shapes in hand-blown glass made using a glass-blowing procedure without turning the glass in the mould (referred to as "stationary"); the striped effect is achieved using a mould with negative decorations which are repeated across the surface of the glass, which is subsequently ground manually "by belt" and which then undergoes immersion in acid in order to emphasise the plaster-like effect. Rituals emit a very private, evocative light. Layer multiple versions from a central light fitting to create a contemporary waterfall effect, or use them individually around your home for a simple yet elegant touch.
