Marset Dipping Light LED
Suspension

Designed by Jordi Canudas, the Marset Dipping Light LED Suspension is a mesmerising statement piece that brings the beauty of artistic experimentation to contemporary lighting design. Inspired by a simple yet ingenious concept, the Dipping Light was originally created by dipping an illuminated bulb into paint multiple times, producing concentric layers of colour that soften the emitted light. The resulting spherical glass shade, available in a variety of rich hues, transforms the suspension lamp into a captivating focal point whether switched on or off.

The 40cm blown glass globe provides a soft, diffused glow, while the integrated LED module ensures energy-efficient illumination. The pendant is supported by a 300cm black electrical cord and a metal canopy, creating a seamless and minimal aesthetic. Designed for dimming via trailing edge and leading edge (Triac) systems, the Dipping Light LED Suspension allows for customisable ambience, making it an ideal addition to dining areas, lounges, and commercial interiors. Whether used as a standalone centrepiece or arranged in clusters for a dramatic composition, this suspension light delivers a bold yet elegant statement.
