Taraxacum 2 Pendant Light by Flos

The Taraxacum 2 Cocoon pendant light by Flos has a hard wearing internal steel frame providing the organic looking shape for the diffuser. The steel frame of the suspension is then sprayed with the unique Flos white "Cocoon" resin, creating the astonishingly beautiful effect, which is then sprayed with a transparent protective coating.

Originally designed in 1960 by renowned designer Achille Castiglioni and brought back into production by Flos in 2006, the timeless Taraxacum pendant lamp is available in two sizes which can be used in conjunction with each other for maximum impact. See the smaller Taraxacum pendant, which has the same innovative appeal.
