Innermost RD2SQ Pendant Light

The RD2SQ Pendant Light by Innermost, crafted by designer Steve Jones, offers a distinctive twist on the traditional pendant light. The unique shape transitions from a square base to a circular top, creating a softly curved form that adds visual interest to any room. A frosted acrylic diffuser at the base softens the light, creating a warm and welcoming glow that's glare-free and comfortable.

The open top allows for a subtle uplight effect, enhancing ambient lighting and adding depth to the space. Available in a range of contemporary colours, the RD2SQ is versatile enough to suit various interiors, from modern living spaces to sophisticated commercial settings. This thoughtfully designed pendant brings a refined touch to any decor, blending simplicity with a playful architectural aesthetic that enhances any environment.
