KDLN Kushi Ceiling Light

The Kushi ceiling light was designed by Alberto Saggia & Valerio Sommella after being inspired by Japanese cuisine. 'Kushi' is Japanese for skewer and this inspiration can be seen within the design of this ceiling light. This KDLN ceiling lamp features a 'gently rounded glass shape pierced by a thin metal rod'. This unique design is available in three different finishes, the rod colours can be black, brass or copper. These finishes add a metallic luxury feel to your ceiling. Whilst the opal diffuser is made of two layers of mouth-blown glass that emits warm light that floats gently in the space.

This lamp would be an ideal addition to a hallway or dining area for the perfect lighting solution that effortlessly fills a space. The Kushi ceiling lamp by KDLN is a stunning and simple feature that would add impact as an individual fitting as well as in a cluster.
