PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: Dima Loginoff

Fedora 3 by Axolight

The Fedora lights were designed by Dima Loginoff, a Russian artist who draws inspiration from his ancestral culture and traditions. It is no surprise that the Fedora suspensions are a reference to matryoshka, the traditional Russian dolls. Loginoff creates minimalistic objects and finds the perfect balance between the traditional and modern. His design for Italian company, Axolight, have become a classic in their lighting collection.

This is the triple version of the collection, with 3 Fedora suspensions hanging unevenly from a round ceiling canopy in white finish. Each suspension and diffuser is comprised of two parts, an aluminium and a transparent glass. The suspensions themselves are available in three metallic finish options: bronze, chrome or rose gold. Axolight advise that all Fedora lights should only be used with LED lamps. Fedora 3 is the perfect light to have above a dinning table, as it creates a beautiful atmosphere and emits a warm light in every direction. Whether for residential or commercial use, Fedora 3 is an excellent choice and is guaranteed to match with any interior decor.

Take a look through the Fedora Collection which includes suspended lights with one, six or twelve lights and a round canopy, or with 7 lights in line and a rectangular canopy; it also includes a built-in recessed Fedora light with a transparent glass diffuser.
