Anglepoise Type 75 Wall Light

The Type 75 wall light was designed by Sir Kenneth Grange as part of the Type 75 collection which was released in 2004. Embracing the past aesthetic of Anglepoise, Grange has modernised the typical Anglepoise lamp by producing lights with clean lines and a neat geometric shade.
The Type 75 wall lamp has a completely movable and adjustable shade allowing for directional light that can be focused on whatever you like. With 2 subtle colours to choose from, this wall light easily fits into any home or commercial décor to be used as a stylish and functional light that has all the subtleties of Anglepoise's iconic design.

This light is available in 2 versions. A hard-wired version or cable and plug version, which has an on/off switch included on the cable needs to be plugged into a nearby socket.
