Artemide Lesbo Table Lamp

Artemide's classic, the Lesbo lamp was designed by Angelo Mangiarotti in 1966. The lamp has a blown, Murano glass diffuser and perfectly sits on a polished metal base. The diffuser and base smoothly transition into each other and it is only the change in material that breaks its unity. The white glass diffuser emits a soft uniform light all around. Lesbo looks stunning on your desk, office, library or just about any surface around your home or professional setting.
