Miconos Suspension by Artemide

Ernesto Gismondi, the founder of Artemide in the '60s, designed the Miconos light collection. The suspension light, as with all Miconos lights, is meant to be a design statement and compliment both traditional and modern interiors. Miconos suspension becomes an accent piece in your home, with a handcrafted blown glass diffuser and a chrome plated metal details. The light is the epitome of Artemide's know-how in both lighting technology and design, bringing together the best of two worlds, art and science. Miconos Suspension is available in two finish options, satinised brass or polished chrome. The collection also includes a ceiling and a wall light.
