Axolight Mountain View by Axolight

A design by Dima Loginoff, the Mountain View suspension light is a unique object. The suspension is made of blown glass that has been hand-crafted by master craftsmen. Loginoff's sensitivity has led to his unique approach in his designs. Mountain view - named after the three-dimensional effect inside the glass which resembles mountain tops.

Axolight Mountain View has three different glass colours: black, amber and clear. Canopies also come in three different colours (chrome, brass and black chrome) which can be mixed with any colour glass shade. Mountain Dew can be installed in any interior, both residential and commercial; above a dining table, in the living room, your office or reception area or above any feature you wish to accentuate. The light becomes a decorative piece when not in use, and perhaps a low installation will allow the viewer to appreciate the details of the glass.
