PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: Sir Kenneth Grange

Anglepoise Type 75 Lamp with Wall Bracket

Developed in 2004 by Sir Kenneth Grange, the Type 75 wall-mounted lamp is part of the wider Anglepoise Type 75 collection, a range which updates classic Anglepoise design resulting in lights that have smart, neat lines with all the benefits of the constant tension spring technology that was originally developed in the 1930s.

The Type 75 lamp with wall bracket, has the advantage of the Type 75 desk lamp, being able to be adjusted and moved whilst saving space by being mounted to the wall. The understated design and the ability to push the lamp against the wall means this wall task light can subtly fit into your home or professional design scheme. With 4 colours to choose from, the Type 75 wall-mounted light will not disappoint with its iconic Anglepoise design and thorough functionality.

This wall lamp has a cable and plug so needs to be fitted near a socket.
