Captain Flint LED Floor Lamp by Flos

The Captain Flint floor lamp provides adjustable and directional light and is a perfect example of multi-purpose free-standing luminaire. The head of the fixture rotates through the vertical axis around the stem allowing for ambient up-lighting or a directional light source for reading.

Recalling the designer Michael Anastassiades' other design of the String Lights, the notion of balance is prominent in this fixture, with the cone shade delicately resting on the stem. Available in anthracite or brushed brass stem and metal spinning cone, with a black Marquina or white Carrara marble base, this floor lamp is suitable for a wide variety of settings.
