Glam Table Lamp by Prandina

Made in 2005 by Luc Ramael, the Glam table lamp is made from two beautiful glass components. The lampshade is made from blown glass which produces a lovely downward, diffused light that is warm and inviting. The base is made from crystal glass being clear so you can see the cable which looks contemporary and stylish. The silhouette of the lamp is intriguing and modernistic, with smooth lines that are reminiscent of 20th century design.

The Glam table light is available in 2 sizes, the Small T1 and the T1, so you can find the right fit for your space. The Small T1 comes in 2 finishes and the T1 is available in 4 different finishes. The T1 table lamp is also dimmable with a dimmer switch included on the cable, so you can create the exact lighting atmosphere you want. Perfect for both domestic and commercial settings, the Glam table lamp in either size can be utilised in bedrooms, lounges, offices and many more as an ambient or reading light.
