CPL Pendant Light by Prandina

The CPL pendant light is part of the Prandina CPL collection, a range developed by Christian Ploderer in 1998. Still relevant today, the pendant is characterised by its perfectly cylindrical shape, held delicately by a chrome or brushed nickel metal. The simplistic aesthetic makes this pendant light classic and timeless, which can work well in a wide variety of settings.

The CPL pendant can be used in both home and commercial interiors, being suitable for kitchens, lounges, dining rooms and more. This pendant light emits a downward light, perfect for hanging over tables, and also creates ambience, wonderful for a comforting and welcoming atmosphere. Choose the opal white finish for a more diffused light or choose the clear crystal finish to have an exposed light source which looks more contemporary.
