Lampe Gras No. 317 Table Lamp by DCW éditions

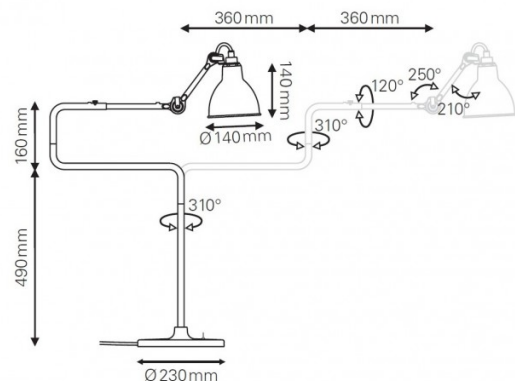

The Lampe Gras No. 317 was designed by Bernard-Albin Gras as part of the DCW éditions Lampe Gras collection, an innovative range that changed the face of lighting design in the 20th century. Gras originally conceived the series in 1921, specifically wanting to create lamps that could be used in industrial environments and offices and this table light is now available for the modern user with a choice between 11 shade colours and finishes.

Made from a steel structure, the Lampe Gras No. 317 table light has a unique silhouette with an arm that can be folded and unfolded, going from a 36cm stretch to a 72cm stretch. This function alongside a moveable shade, shade arm and stem, means you have a full range of movement, perfect for use on desks, tables, sideboards and more for tasks, reading and ambience. A stunning table lamp that is 100 years in the making and will be a renowned lighting piece for many decades.
