Passepartout JH11 LED Ceiling / Wall Light by &Tradition

Designed in 2016 by Jaime Hayon, the Passepartout JH11 LED ceiling/wall light was created because &Tradition wanted to produce a spot light that was both subtle yet significant, a light that would make an impact without intruding on the space. Resulting in a small, distinct light, the Passepartout JH11 wall/ceiling lamp is simple yet effective, having nice, clean lines that are striking.

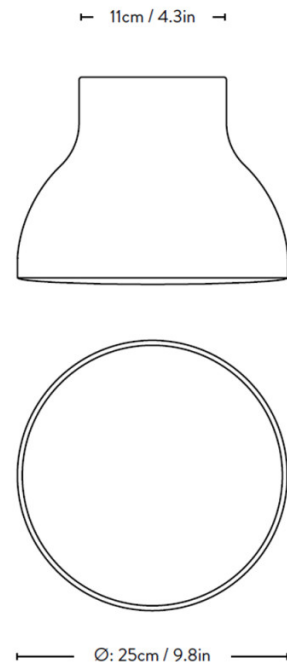

The JH11 ceiling/wall light is a very versatile lamp, suitable for use in many spaces such as small rooms, big halls or corridors, perfect for lining the wall or as spotlights in the ceiling. The lamp also has a built-in LED light, making it energy saving and dimmable, wonderful for creating the exact atmosphere you need. The light disperses nicely in the room and the choice of two colours means you can pick the right light for any existing décor. You can also make a decorative impact by matching this light with others from the &Tradition Passepartout collection, to create a patterned wall feature that is both functional and dazzling.

All Passepartout lights are now set up as dim-to-warm, meaning that as you dim the light, the colour temperature is gradually reduced to a warmer colour.
