PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: Rainer Mutsch

Orchid 3 by Axolight

The Orchid was designed by Rainer Mutsch, one of the most successful designers in Europe, for Italian brand, Axolight. The collection has since become one of the most popular designs in the contemporary scene. Rainer grew up surrounded by design, and thus became fully aware of the demands in responsible design from a very young age. For the Orchid, Rainer was inspired by blossom like structures; a shade opening up like a flower from a central pole. This design has other benefits, such as very efficient cooling abilities. The Orchid lights are perfect for residential spaces or commercial projects, as the light becomes a central piece in any interior. The Orchid 3 is comprised of three shades, each facing into different directions, 'opening up' from a central, vertical pole. Each shade emits a diffused beam light, via an opalescent diffuser. The lights are available in three colour options, white, sand or anthracite grey.
