Talak Professional by Artemide

One of Artemide's best seller products, Talak Professional has been re-envisioned in accordance with the growth of LED technology. Talak Professional has the same structure, a stem structure that allows you to adjust the head around the axis as well as along the height of the axis. The head, protruding from the stem, is 15 cm shorter than the original making it more functional and not intrusive into the working space. Although smaller, the table lamp emits a light almost triple as much when compared to the original version, is energy efficient and eco-friendly.
