Cut Floor Lamp by Axolight

Timo Ripatti designed the Cut Collection which was awarded the "Good Design" award in 2019/2020. The collection resulted after a prolonged design process between Ripatti and Italian lighting companu, Axolight. They aimed to create a lamp that would be adjustable, easily positioned into three different arrangements but that would emit no glare. And hence, the Cut lights were created.

The Cut floor lamp has a laser cut aluminium body, with various folds on its upper part, connects two elements: the light source and a semi-transparent diffuser. The LED integrated light source is housed in a circular metal support. Diffuser and light source both face each other in a way that the light is filtered and reflected by the semi-transparent screen.

The Cut Collection also includes a suspension and a table lamp. The lights are all available in an intense black finish, and an integrated LED source.
