Stemplite Pendant Light by Gubi

A 2020 release by Gubi, the Stemplite pendant is part of the Stemplite collection, which was first released and designed in 1962 by Bill Curry. The pendant is characterised by a round, globular glass lampshade which is inspired by the 1960s space age as Curry had a background in aerospace. The light instantly became iconic and even featured on the set of the original Star Trek series because of its forward-thinking and innovative design.

The Stemplite pendant light has a metal fitting which is available in 3 colours, black chrome, black red and pebble grey, and will look chic and timeless in many interiors. The pendant emits a soft glow that will fill the room and can be used alone or in multiple depending on the size of the room. Use in bedrooms, lounges, dining areas and more to add a timeless and renowned piece to your decoration.
