Chiara Table Lamp by Flos

The Chiara table lamp was originally designed in 1969 by Mario Bellini and is enjoying a revival with a 2020 re-edition by Flos. The table lamp is made from one sheet of stainless steel which is rolled into a cylinder with an intriguing hat like lampshade that has a coloured edge. The light source is concealed and reflects off the shade, creating a diffused and effective glow.

The Chiara table light is available in a aluminium finish with an anthracite edge. The table light will add a modern and chic touch to your interior being a timeless piece of designer history and having a contemporary aesthetic. Use in many settings on tables, desks, side tables and more as a handy ambient light.
