Fork Table Lamp by Diesel Living with Lodes

Inspired by informal lifestyles, the Fork table light has a linen cotton diffuser that is reminiscent of camping tents and casual fashion. The lampshade is held by a bent metal structure, that resembles a fork, which enables the shade to be rotated around 360° allowing for a directable light. The light source is also diffused, creating a warming glow that is perfect for many interiors.

Suitable for tables, desks, side tables and more, the Fork table lamp can be used as an ambient light or a task/reading light, and will be a stylish and functional addition to your room. The table light comes with the choice of an anthracite or ivory metal structure paired with either a grey or ivory diffuser. With a natural look and earthy colours, this table lamp will easily slip into any design scheme and can be matched with other lights from the Diesel Living with Lodes Fork collection for a consistent design scheme.
