Foglio Wall Light by Flos

The Foglio wall light has an unusual curved structure created from steel which is powder painted in a choice of white, black and chrome. The Foglio has a timeless, graphic style and emits indirect, partially diffused light to create an ambient glow, perfect for lighting in a hallway, bedroom or living area.

Designed by Tobia Scarpa in 1966, the Foglio wall lamp has stood the test of time and remains one of Flos' most popular wall lighting products. The meandering waves and curved profile of the wall light compliments the output of soft diffused light and the 1960s feel give the fixture a special charm.
