Tress Pendant Light by Foscarini

The Tress pendant light was designed by Marc Sadler in collaboration with Foscarini. For the design they have made a new material that combines resin tape and fibreglass, creating a criss-cross pattern to produce a hand-crafted, woven look. Both eye-catching and unique, this pendant comes in three colours, black, white or greige (a combination of grey and beige) and three sizes, mini, small and medium.

The Tress pendant is perfect for use in kitchens, dining rooms and lounges and works best over tables and surfaces thanks to its downward directed light. You can use alone for smaller spaces or you can use in rows or clusters for a bigger illumination and to create a light feature. Match with others from the Foscarini Tress collection to create a consistent lighting scheme throughout your interior.
