Toio Floor Lamp by Flos

The Toio, designed by the Castiglioni brothers Achille and Pier, for Flos in 1962 is a floor lamp which exudes character. Since its design the Toio floor light has become a design classic, oozing industrial style with a chic choice of colours.

The Toio floor lamp has a hexagonal nickel-plated brass height adjustable stem with a telescopic head, featuring an exposed bulb and sturdy steel base. Available in three colour choices, red, black and white, the floor light also features an electronic dimmer on the cable allowing the regulation of light output to suit the users needs.
