Cosmic Angel Suspension by
Artemide

Ross Lovegrove, the designer behind the Cosmic Angle lights, commented that his design "...gives a natural flow on the sculptural surface of the light, as if it is suspended by anti-gravity in the air". The Cosmic Angel suspension light is made from a thermoplastic material, adding to its weightlessness while the light is illuminated from below. Cosmic Angel has the organic shape that Lovegrove is known for. He takes inspiration from the logical and beauty found in nature. Emitting an indirect light, Cosmic Angel suspension becomes an elegant presence in any room. The range also includes a ceiling light.
