Aura AP Wall Light by Axolight

Aura lights are a fine example of true Murano glass craftsmanship. A design by Manuel Vivian for Italian company, Axolight, the Aura have become a classic. Aura wall light creates a sparkle of light and becomes a decorative piece even when not in use. The perfect light for both residential and commercial projects, but also in venues and hotels. The light creates an interplay of light and colour when switched on; creating a refined environment and guaranteed to catch the eye.

As with every Aura light, the wall light is comprised of numerous twisted glass pieces. Glassmakers used true Murano glass and traditional techniques to form each piece; thus making it unique. The glass piece is hand crafted, from start to finish. While some decorative details have a chrome finish, the glass pieces are available in red, white, tea or 'rigadin' crystal. The lights all take a retrofit light source, which is ingeniously hidden from the viewer.

The Aura Collection further includes two suspension lights and a ceiling light, with the recognisable cascading shape and Murano, hand twisted glass pieces.
