KDLN Floob Pendant Light

The Floob pendant features a flower-like shade that blooms outwards with its plexiglass petals. The design is transparent and almost appears fluid and its smooth exterior gives it an element of movement. This balancing composition of the aluminum and the plexiglass is a delicate layering of a smooth transparent and easily moldable material paired with a hardy and opaque metal that can be seen through the plexiglass.

This pendant light is formed by thermoformed and extruded Plexiglas with spun and laser-cut aluminum reflector and integrated acid-etched glass diffuser. Hang as a cluster or as a simply stunning statement piece on its own, the Floob pendant by KDLN uses its transparency to make it easy to place anywhere in the home. Over a worktop in a kitchen or a dining table, the Floob pendant will add a designer touch to your home.
