KDLN Kyudo LED Floor Lamp

The Kyudo floor lamp is an innovative design that allows the user to alter the height and length of the light source. this LED strip of light can be slid in and out as you chose between an elongated downlight or a shortened low light. Kyudo, meaning 'way of the bow' is a thousand-year-old discipline inspired by Zen philosophy. Conveying a sense of balance and equilibrium, the Kyudo features a continuous sequence of LED lights that create an adjustable ribbon of light thanks to the two arcs that form the structure and slide one over the other. This design gives you control over the direction and functionality of this floor lamp.

Available in either a sleek white, lively orange or a minimalist black finish, this KDLN LED floor lamp gives you the freedom to light your space in multiple ways. Place this floor lamp in your living or dining area to create the perfect lighting solution for your space. The dimmable feature also allows you to dim the intensity of the LED output so that the ambience of the space is calming yet functional.
